	<input type="checkbox"/> The licence conditions could also impose restrictions on prices charged on each tier of channels provided by the broadcaster.
7. Programme packaging Including tiering, bundling, any mandatory a la carte	<input type="checkbox"/> "A la carte" is not mandatory in Sri Lanka. Tiering/a la carte/other forms of programme packaging are carried out by the existing pay TV operators in Sri Lanka.	We do not anticipate any changes in relation to the applicable regulatory structure.
8. Restrictions on advertising Including localisation rules, revenue and minutage restrictions	<input type="checkbox"/> Unless the conditions of the MMM licence provide otherwise, there is no restriction on pay TV advertisements. <input type="checkbox"/> There is no minutage restriction imposed on the broadcaster. <input type="checkbox"/> The conditions of the MMM licence may differentiate between foreign and domestic advertisements. The licence conditions provide that foreign channels must not carry advertisements that specifically target Sri Lankan viewers. <input type="checkbox"/> There are no specific taxes which are payable on advertising apart from the Teledrama, Film and Commercials Levy in terms of the Finance Act.	We do not anticipate any changes in relation to the applicable regulatory structure.
9. (a) Content regulation Including local content quotas, content control and insertion of classification and other content labels into international feeds	<input type="checkbox"/> Local content quotas will depend on the conditions of the MMM licence and copies of such licences are not publicly available. <input type="checkbox"/> In terms of the conditions of the pay TV operator licence issued under Section 17 of the Telecom Act, the pay TV operator must not distribute harmful or illegal content that may affect national security, within the framework of technical possibility of control of such contents. The operator must also undertake to not carry objectionable, obscene, unauthorised or any other content, or communications through the licensed system. <input type="checkbox"/> Unless otherwise provided in the licence conditions of the MMM licence, there are no requirements for the insertion of local classification and other content labels into international feeds.	We do not anticipate any changes in relation to the applicable regulatory structure.

	<input type="checkbox"/> As stated above, in terms of the Finance (Teledrama, Films and Commercial Levy) Regulations No. 01 of 2017 made under the Finance Act, all foreign teledrama, film and commercial require a certificate of clearance issued by the secretary to the MMM, which may be refused on the basis of such teledrama, film or commercial being obnoxious to Sri Lankan values, identity or ethics.
9. (b) Content regulation Including languages, dubbing/subtitling and captioning	<input type="checkbox"/> Unless otherwise provided in the MMM licence conditions, there are no requirements for broadcasting in a specific language, dubbing, subtitling and captioning.	We do not anticipate any changes in relation to the applicable regulatory structure.
10. Programme supply restrictions Including must provide rules and other restrictions on exclusivity and anti-siphoning rules	<input type="checkbox"/> Unless otherwise provided in the MMM licence there are no “must carry” or “must provide” requirements imposed on pay TV operators. <input type="checkbox"/> Exclusivity in content distribution is permissible in the re-transmission of television programmes. <input type="checkbox"/> Since pay TV operators require a licence under section 17 of the Telecom Act, the TRC usually regulates anti-competition practices between the operators in the licence agreement itself. However, there are no specific regulations made in the law that are applicable other than those in the licence conditions. <input type="checkbox"/> The Government does not maintain a list of programmes which must be transmitted by the pay TV operators. <input type="checkbox"/> There are no general restrictions on tiering or bundling TV channels by the pay TV operator in Sri Lanka. However, the conditions of the operator licence may state that the operator must not engage in any anti-competitive practice. An anti-competitive practice is defined in the licence conditions as "any practice whereby the Operator, in the course of business,	We do not anticipate any changes in relation to the applicable regulatory structure.
